Dawn Wright
ESRI (United States)

Dawn J. Wright is Chief Scientist of the Environmental Systems Research Institute (ESRI). She is on leave as Professor of Geography and Oceanography in the College of Earth, Ocean, and Atmospheric Sciences at Oregon State University. She earned an individual interdisciplinary Ph.D. in physical geography and marine geology from the University of California at Santa Barbara. Dr. Wright has authored or co-authored more than 130 articles and 5 books on marine geographic information systems, hydrothermal activity and tectonics of mid-ocean ridges, and marine data modeling and cyberinfrastructure. She has participated in over 20 oceanographic research expeditions worldwide, including 10 legs of the Ocean

Drilling Program and 3 dives in the Alvin submersible. Her research currently focuses on coastal/ocean cyberinfrastructure, geographic information science, benthic terrain and habitat characterization, and the processing and interpretation of high-resolution bathymetry and underwater videography/photography. Dr. Wright is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) and of Stanford University's Aldo Leopold Leadership Program. In 2007 she was named U.S. Professor of the Year for the state of Oregon by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education.
